NATION FACES CRUISES

The United States faces a flood of crises, in two oceans and at home.

In the Atlantic Hitler is a menace; in the Pacific the Japanese peril increases. Both nations are highly interested in the other crises which confront the nation.

The demands of some labor organizations present a threat which is equalled by the disregard attitude of some business men. These brethren are entitled to whatever comfort any American can secure from the realization that he is pleasing the enemies of the republic.

There is another crisis, which we are about to forget in the excitement, it concerns the attitude of the average American, which means all of us, who are not yet awakened to the dangers that assail the nation; we are not yet ready to sacrifice anything except at a personal advantage; we think that others can protect the republic and safeguard our liberties.

The quickest way to lose liberty is to refuse to sacrifice for liberty.—Flaeger Tribune.

YOU WILL PAY AND PAY AND PAY

When the tax collector gets through with you this year, you'll learn that in addition to paying a federal social security tax of 2 per cent on the earnings of each employee, you must pay $2 a month to the state for each employee in excess of one, as an extra occupational tax. When there are three or more employees, you must insure them against accident and injuries. If eight or more are employed you pay an unemployment compensation tax. Practically every kind of business using the mails comes under the federal wage and hour act. If it's a corporation there is a state corporation and federal corporation tax to be paid, even if your business operates on a cash basis. If it operates at a profit, then there is income tax. When you are through with that, if you have paid your valorem taxes, special district taxes, and license taxes, you may pay some more.

If you have anything left you will pay the state $10.25 for license plate and driver's license on a light car, and Uncle Sam gets out a $5 excise tax, but $7.00 on the same auto. If you have any money left you pay gasoline, not at 7 cents per gallon tax, but a total of 8 1/2 cents per gallon for state and federal gas taxes.

If you've still got a dollar left you can give it to the Red Cross and ask the Community Chest to provide you with food, fuel, clothing and shelter, as you are disqualified for work on WPA, or perhaps you can join the CIO and get strike-benefits, which there are no taxes. Possibly the railroad brotherhood will take you in at $9 per day and let you strike for 30 per cent more, and retire you later on a railroad retirement pension at half pay.

Living expenses have increased 20 per cent; cost of living is too high, and only John L. Lewis successfully defies the government and enjoys immunity.—Win. Griffin in Capital Conference.

IN THE NAME OF RELIGION

We are familiar with good souls who are so busy trying to merit eternal life in the future that they are utterly unable to give any effort to the art of living in the world, with the people of their kind.

These persons bestir themselves to convict somebody else of sin and are, upon most occasions, extremely suspicious of everybody except themselves. They are never happier than when condemning people for their wrong-doing, unless it be when they attempt to stir up sentiment against the evil one.

The mystery to us is where the folks get the idea that they have any religion at all. They exhibit no sign of wanting to be helpful. If they have any love for fellow-humans, they conceal it within themselves.

Most of these wretches go through life with a martyr complex. They usually over-exaggerate their own capacities and importance. They destroy their usefulness by endless complaints. In the end they accomplish nothing but the creation of friction among people and they come to the end of their lives utterly delighted that they will see few of their tormentors in the promised land.

More mysterious than their behavior is the amazing pretensions that they carry on in the name of religion.—Flaeger Tribune.

Man with false teeth need not have false tongue.

A teacher suggests that every American child be required to speak a foreign language perfectly. It might be better still to have them speak English understandingly.

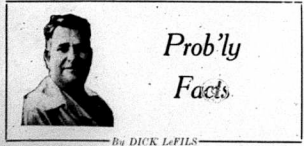

Advertising in The Herald will sell goods any time of the year, but it is especially powerful during the period between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Every state in the Union boasts of its climate. Some stress the sunshine and a few, on occasion, have been known to boast their moonshine.

"If Lindbergh is such an isolationist why doesn't he isolate himself?"—Clement Press. Just give him a little more time and he will!

The Red Cross is trying to alleviate some of the suffering wrought by the crooked black cross of Nazi Germany.

Some men have footprints on the sands of time; others leave fingerprints at police headquarters.

Probly Facts

By DICK FELTUS

Tonight as I set here moonbeaming fried cracklings from a bowl and staring at the calendar hanging on the wall, I know that I'm in the same dark days ahead of it won't be long before Christmas, and all the kin folks will be looking for something, even if it's nothing but a card of greetings. But I know that as I will never get off that easy with some that I know of, for as I look around, there is several new catalog of the latest items laying about in easy reach that is marked from the cover to the lastest newsprint. Marked with literature, with the intentions of putting the pressure on the old man when he is groomed and maneuvered into the right spirit to where he can stand the shock without too much mental strain and he will be loosed to loosen up the many-knotted strings of his purse.

But I'm in for a great let-down after it is all over, for I have had such unlimited privileges around the house for about a month, such as having full squatters' rights to use the take a nap on now and then—the holding of priority over the car, for the asking; the family consent of going out any night with the boys has been granted with the slightest of a hint.

The attitude of the household has changed so much that I have waited on, for I can't pick up a thing but what there isn't a little hand or two to hand it to me with a smile.

It has spoiled me as well as forming one of the worst habits that I have ever had and that is taking a little nap on the settee after dinner since I have had full squatters' rights to use the settee. I started out with only a few minutes of napping at the time, it went into hours now after a few days on the minute schedule. The thing has about three risks that catch you along the side and back that make you dream all kinds of things after laying on them for a few hours.

One afternoon while everybody was away, the feeling hit me that I couldn't resist even as hard as I tried to keep the thing up for the afternoon. I finally gave up and laid down with the intention of only taking a few minutes of napping. But after I lay there for a few hours, I got to dreaming that I was awake and slept all afternoon and after the night. On waking, I don't believe that anyone could have been any sorer than I if a roller had run over them than I was after sleeping several hours on those three risks that make up the main supports of the settee. I have got so much on that thing with me on until I have been told that whenever I did I will die with my boots on that settee.

But I'm not the only one that's spoiled for we spoiled our kids teaching them for five years that there was a Shanty. And for the last two we have been trying to tell them otherwise, but they don't want to learn any different and won't even listen any other doctrine that has anything to do with putting off oil Saint Nickolas' visit.

I have set here and it up about two pounds of cracklings and started in on a bag of new peans that some friends sent from Alabama, in fact I have worked up such an appetite until I don't think I don't quit, I'll have to go and cook myself something to eat.

There was a fellow that gave so many blood transfusions the doctor issued him a courtesy card.

A technician or an architect, which ever one you may call him, was testing a fellow's blood. After counting the dust corpuscles, the architect said: "You have a very strong blood, for the tests almost 95 per cent—put it back."

"Dear Dick: Re: Air Cushion with Silver Lining.

Your column is very weekly expectancy, but this week? Well, you kind, sympathetic expression is, indeed, paralyzing. But now, alas, the chair must be put to use, and I've been thinking, the doctor has his anxiety, we must pursue some other course and I guess it may as well begin air cushion!

We hope our customer (s) will find it so comforting that, instead of hesitating, it will be a pleasure.

Please come when you will!

in life drawing and painting and lettering.
Later in the season, short courses will be offered for a period of six and 12 weeks, with Arnold Blanch, who will give instruction in landscape painting and also lectures on composition and color; Doris Lee will teach figure painting, and Adolf Dehn will introduce a course in lithography.

Adolf Dehn is a native of Minnesota and studied at the Minneapolis School of Art and the Art Students League, New York. He was granted a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1939 and has won many prizes and awards during his career. His works are hung in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Whitney Museum of Art, New York Public Library, Brooklyn Museum, Newark Museum of Art, Newark Museum of Art, Minneapolis Institute of Fine Arts, Seattle Art Museum, and many others in this country; also in the National Museum at also in the National Museum at London, Handel Academy of Fine Arts.

Arnold Blanch, also a native of Minnesota, studied with Kenneth Hayes Miller, John Sloan and Robert Henri. He was granted a Guggenheim Fellowship in 1933. He, too, has received numerous awards and prizes throughout his career and his works are hung in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, and the Palace of the Legion of Honor, San Francisco, California. He was awarded the commission to do the murals in the post office of San Francisco and also of Norwalk, Connecticut.

Doris Lee is a native of Illinois and studied with Anthony Anguara, Ernest Lawson and Arnold Blanch. She has won many prizes and awards. One of her recent years won the first prize and Logan Gold Medal at the Art Institute of Chicago. Miss Lee is well known also as a lecturer and will, during these sessions, offer talks on art appreciation for the layman.

Among the other subjects being offered are: Etching, with James Mallory Wilson; fashion design, Helena Williams; conversational Spanish, Carmen A. Montoya; conversational French, Georges Nicot; short story technique, Helen Van Hoy Sedgwick; journalism, Vernon L. Smith; voice, Basil Riaboukha; piano and music appreciation, Dorothy Riaboukha; and the boys' choir, with Basil and Dorothy Riaboukha.

Should there be enough requests for instruction in beginning Spanish and French, arrangements may be made for these classes in the daytime.

A new project to be introduced this season, will be the showing of educational films for the art students, and the students enrolled in the public schools of the county. A program is now being worked out whereby films will be shown which will aid in correlating the school studies, such as art (painting and sculpture), history, geography, and architecture and other subjects as the demand arises.

Arrangements may be made for gallery tours for organizations and school students, the latter to be accompanied by their teachers.

Further information regarding the school may be obtained by phoning 5194-5195. Miss Helen W. Burgess, registrar.

Local artists who are members of the club belonging to the Florida Federation of Art, are invited to exhibit their work at the annual Florida Federation of Art convention. This is among the important events to which the artists of the state look forward. There are 23 chapters in the federation, the Palm Beach Art League, the latter being the second oldest art organization in the federation, is making a great step in the progress, as that was the first juried exhibition and was held at Bradenton in the municipal art gallery. Nearly a thousand works were presented and about 250 were selected for exhibition. A small group of oils and a group of watercolors are always selected from the annual exhibition for circulating amongst the clubs for exhibition throughout the year.

The Tampa Civic Art Association composed of three clubs will be host to the exhibition and convention, which will be held at the state fair grounds in Tampa. The Hillsboro Hotel in Tampa will be headquarters for the delegates.

Artists interested in submitting their work to the jury may obtain prospectus and entry blanks at the Norton Gallery or by phoning 5194.

SCHOOL NEWS

FROM BELLE GLADE'S NEW HIGH SCHOOL

"SOCIALLY SPEAKING"
The FFA Agricultural Club sponsored a dance Friday night at the old Junior high school auditorium. A large crowd turned out, including the townspeople and high school pupils. The music was furnished by Toby's Barn Dance Gang. The whole affair was considered a success.

THANKS A MILLION!
We wish to thank the citizens of Belle Glade and the members of the Athletic Association, for their much-needed donations and loyalty towards our football team and equipment. It was through the citizens of Belle Glade that our football team was made possible and a success.

THE RAMS.
EDITORIAL
BY JIMMY WILLIAMS
After a slight delay of two weeks, caused chiefly by a case of measles, the long period of preparation for the fall library play, "Through the Keyhole," is rapidly drawing to an end. Mrs. Camp, the director, and members of the cast will hold their last rehearsal on Wednesday night of this week. All who have ever had experience in this line will tell you of the tremendous amount of work involved in putting on a successful play. All participants, cast, director, property men, and make-up department, must co-operate very closely.

Is Reed Margaret's one and only now? It seems that way! It looks as if some people try.

Agnes "Little Red Hot" really travels around. Doesn't it?

We hear Glennia is really going to miss Herb Busbin—when he goes to the navy. Eh, Glennia?

Who was that boy Margaret W. was with Thursday night? (She ain't at all particular.)

What's this we hear about "Daddy" and "Boogie Woogie"? Some couple, eh?

We hear Gloria W. and Busch L. were really getting "acquainted" at play practice Monday night.

What's this about Alice C. and Willie Frank? (Poor Gloria is out again.)

Eric Hartline, who has served in the Army Engineering Corps in Georgia for the last year, has been mustered out on account of the age limit, and has returned home.

What does Standard Protection do for you?

It was a hard fight, earning that home of yours and filling it with the things that have made it so livable. What a crushing blow it would be, if fire should wipe all that out in one blazing sweep!

But . . . you know that fire can't do that to you. You're insured! Safe, sound, amply reserved capital stock company insurance stands between your life's dearest investment and its loss to you by fire.

We hope that is true of you. If not, we urge you to get the peace of mind that comes with sound insurance. Let us protect your home, furnishings, business, automobile and other possessions with dependable, economical insurance.

Capital stock company insurance also works to protect fire. For example . . . the little yellow label on your lamp cord, the approval tags on your Christmas tree lighting set mean that those were tested for fire-safety.

It was decided to work on our Junior Citizen badge during the meetings. Those present were: Carolyn and Louise Hamilton, Carolyn Fredlund, Ruth Caldwell, Barbara Will, Martha Parker, Billie Watson, Mary Williams, Mary Eleanor Kilde, Grace Eggelston, Helen and Louise Friedheim.

SPORT NEWS

As the football season is over the boys are beginning to think about basketball, the next sport item. There are about 25 boys expected to report for practice on Dec. 8. A number of the boys have had previous experience at Pahokee, and with the addition of the regular Belle Glade boys, a good season is expected. No schedule has been announced, but there will be four games with the Pahokee equal.

Basketball season for the girls has already begun. They have been practicing, already, for about three weeks. A large number of girls have come out—to be exact—30. This makes five teams, which gives them much practice. The suits have already come and are very attractive.

Miss Odessa Dietrich, the coach, seems to be very good and is very interested in the girls.

The first game is to be with Clewiston and several more games are scheduled.

A successful season is expected.

GOSSIP!

Is Terrie taking Gloria's place with Shorty? Too bad! What happened to that picture of Busbin? Agnes wants to know!

Cromarie and Hill. They seem to be playing together!

It seems as if Lois is trying to take a turn with the boys. Now it's Carol's turn. Just like a game—Dina ever?

Too bad about Barstow's heart! Could it have been the doctor?

THINGS I NEVER KNEW
 That no matter what you think about the superior officer who barks a command at you, you will never get into trouble if you remember the most important word in any sailor's dictionary, to-wit: "Obey."
 The "never" never has on the tip of his tongue: "Growth you may not go you must!"
 The Navy never calls newcomers "rookies." They are "Boats."
 The Navy has filed its long famous recruiting poster slogan, "Join the Navy and See the World." It is now: "Join the Navy and Serve Your Country."
 The reason they call a battleship "she." Because she carries a lot of paint to keep up her appearance, she always has a crowd of sailors around her and she makes a helms lot of noise in an argument. See the secretary of the Navy Knox (he is 67) is the first Secretary to inspect a submarine while it was submerged.

Our sailors like their women tall and willowy. They are not fussy whether they are blondes, brunettes or redheads—according to a recent poll. American sailors' pay is said to be the highest in the world. Some have heard that Brazilian officers are paid taller wages than any navy's. The Navy (sailors) books are bound in lead covers so that in event of capture by an enemy—the books can be tossed overboard and sink. Sailors call Naval Reserve Officers "instanluns" because they have silver in their hair, gold on their sleeves and lead in their pants! (Who, me?)
 There are sixteen American Indians in the U. S. Navy. The reason the Navy is reluctant about accepting drafttees is that it takes more than a year, sometimes two, to train and induct for naval warfare. . . . Recruit is given an outfit free. It costs the Navy $118. . . . After that outfit, recruits out. The sailor has to pay. . . . The legend that sailors pay from five to eight cents per pack of cigarettes is true only when their ship is on the sea. . . . Midshipmen at Annapolis are not permitted to chew gum. . . . And not only that, but get this. . . . When they enter the Naval Academy—they are handed a condensed version of Emily Post's book of etiquette, and they have to study it. . . . What! No dunking? Feversakes!

 The over-age destroyers we gave England had the modern bunks instead of the old-fashioned hammocks. But the British put back the hammocks because the bunks made them sick! . . . Tip to newspapermen and other writers: Sailors, tannant and bluejackets will like you a lot more if you call them anything but jokers. . . . Use politeness prefer being called officers instead of cops. . . . California, New York and Texas contraband more—men to the Navy than the rest of the nation.
 The North Carolina's bugler (Paul Link) was the drummer in Jan Savitt's orchestra. . . . Doctors on board are always called surgeons. . . . The church colors are the only colors that may be flown over the national ensign. . . . Lie Brody has a corking piece about life aboard the North Atlantic in Enquire. But he says the officers get no desert. . . . He meant to say "at the sea meal" apparently for the peach short-cake on the N. C. is grand. . . . That 19-gun salvo (every gun on the ship) cost Uncle Samson a mere $23,750. . . . The great battleship, like a real champion, didn't blink longer than half-a-second, and then proceeded on its grand, full way. . . . Captain O. M. Huston and his Executive Officer, Commander A. G. Shepard, are exactly the kind of American naval officers you always imagined—dignified and distinguished gentlemen.
 Contrary to popular belief a sailor does not have to salute an officer on board ship whenever they meet. An officer must be saluted only the first time a seaman sees him during the day. Only the captain must be saluted at all times. . . . Spectators at the Naval Academy's intercollegiate boxing matches must attend in formal attire. The purpose is to cut down on the heavy demand for tickets. . . . Martha Raye of the screen recently got word from the crew of the U. S. Submarine Narwhal (in Hawaii) that they had named her "the girl with whom we'd most like to be submerged."

In the "Navy Blues" flicker Ann Sheridan, in a word dated, used a sword that belong to Admiral Farragut. It was loaned to Ann by her stand-in, Minna Farragut, a real-niece of the naval hero. . . . Ironically, after the War Between the States, Farragut was ordered to Europe, in the steam rigging, Franklin and his wife went along. At Constantinople they boarded a steamer on a short cruise in the Black Sea. Mrs. Farragut sat herself down in the extreme bow, blocking the pilot's vision. He asked the Admiral to move her chair. . . . She refused to budge, so the pilot called two husky seamen and had them remove her forcibly. . . . Later, when Farragut heard about it, he scolded his wife with a bit of Judy, how often have I told you that at sea you are not the boss.
 That one recalls the time a lovable old timer, Commodore Joe Effe, had his Mrs. on board. . . . The Navy Department suddenly decided that wives were to be sent home pronto. . . . Mrs. Effe refused to leave the ship. The Commodore reported to the Navy Dept: "Wife no go! What do?"
 When on shore duty (such as Public Relations, Bureau of Navigation, Intelligence, quarters) the station or building is peculiarly called. The U. S. S. "Concrete" (Walls on shore duty) aren't called walls, but bunkheads. Stairways are ladders and floors are decks. . . . The newer ships have the most modern conveniences of all. Bunks instead of hammocks and showers instead of the old-fashioned deck-spout for a bath tub. . . . The battleship this was readied on has officers' quarters similar to the tower suites at the Waldorf-Astoria. . . . Such airs! . . . The Navy has many women with ranks from Ensign to Lieutenant. They are registered nurses. . . . And "getting seasick" doesn't mean you're a poor sailor. . . . One of the greatest naval heroes of all time (the won all his battles) was a chronic sufferer of seasickness—Lord Nelson.
 Miss Gladys Eldon of Miami spent Thanksgiving holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. B. Eldon, Mr. Eldon motorized to Miami for his Thanksgiving morning.
 Leonard Frankov expects to leave for army duty in the near future, having already received his call.
